MANAGEMENT'S DEMONSTRATED TRACK RECORD OF DEVELOPING MINES

Over the last 30 years, the RTG management team has financed, built and operated 7 new gold mines, often being a first mover in these countries, attracting both investor interest and financial support for the projects, which has led to growth and prosperity for the host countries.

- In the Philippines, RTG management developed and operated the largest primary gold operation (Masbate) which has often been referred to as the flagship operation in the country, setting the standards for both environmental and safety best practices.
- RTG's next development project will likely be the high grade Mabilo Project in the Philippines, with an average AuEq grade in the order of 5g/t, open cut, which is at an advanced stage.
- RTG has also been nominated as the preferred developer by the Landowners for the Panguna Mine in Bougainville but resolution of the future of the mine is still subject to discussion between the Autonomous Bougainville Government (ABG) and the Landowners and securing support of the ABG.
- There are strong parallels between the Panguna proposal and the redevelopment of the Masbate Gold Mine in the Philippines, which was successfully completed by the RTG Management team in approximately 2 years.
- RTG has acquired 90% of the Chanach Gold and Copper Project in Kyrgyzstan which has just under 500,000 oz of gold and is undertaking further drilling to expand the resource

On closure of the mines developed by the team to date, the mine sites have been fully rehabilitated before then handing them back to the host Governments and securing Government sign off.

RTG was the first management team and still the only management team to hand back a mine site to the Ghanaian Government with full Government sign off. Obotan was a great template for how to close mines. The pits were turned into fish farms, with cooperatives developed and trained. The waste dumps were turned into fruit orchards and the tails dam was replanted with local hard wood timbers and had many years of regeneration on it.
